Joyce Maudie, the 2013 CCC Coach of the Year just completed her eighth year as the head coach at Roger Williams University. Under Maudie’s leadership, RWU claimed the 2013 CCC championship and picked up their first win in NCAA Tournament history. Maudie’s teams have made the playoffs seven of her eight years, finishing as the CCC runner up in 2016 and 2017. Six Hawks were named to the CCC All-Conference team for the 2018 season. As a former coach at Divisions I, II and III, Maudie reached her 500th career victory in the 2017 season. She has earned five Coach of the Year Awards.

GUEST COACH — Kim Camara-Harvey
Johnson & Wales University, RI.

Coach Camara-Harvey is beginning her fifth year at Johnson & Wales. Since Camara-Harvey took over the Johnson & Wales University softball team in the fall of 2014, the Wildcats have become synonymous with winning the GNAC championship. JWU concluded the 2018 season by winning their fourth straight conference title, finishing with a 32-13 campaign, garnering Camara-Harvey back-to-back Coach of the Year Awards for the GNAC. The Wildcats have posted three consecutive seasons of 30 wins or greater, with 2017 setting the mark for a school-record 34 wins. Prior to her arrival in Providence, Camara-Harvey served as an assistant coach at Webster University, and was the head coach at NCAA I Drexel University in Philadelphia for six seasons. Prior to Drexel, Camara-Harvey was the assistant coach at UNC Wilmington for four seasons. Camara-Harvey was a four-year letter winner at the University of Rhode Island.

The Clinic Staff will be assisted by the 2018-2019 Hawk Softball team members.

A certified athletic trainer will be on site for the duration of the clinic.

A clinic waiver must be submitted on line with the registration form.
